Help the Salem-Morrow Fire Department Protect Your Dreams

The quicker the Salem-Morrow Fire Department's firefighters or EMT's can locate you, the quicker we can begin helping you and your family. In an effort to locate your home or business in an emergency, the Salem-Morrow Fire Department is providing a 6" x 18" reflective sign that will clearly display your street address. These signs are invaluable to firefighters, EMT's, and police officers, who may be looking for your home in your time of need. Similar signs have been installed in other communities with startling results. The Salem-Morrow Fire Department is selling these signs at the low cost of $12.00 each. If you wish to have the SMFD mount your sign for you, they will do so for $14.00. Each sign has your street address prominently displayed on both sides in highly reflective 3" numbers against a green background similar to those on an interstate sign. The signs are installed in such a way that assures their visibility, even in high grass and snowy weather conditions. If you would like to purchase one of these signs, simply stop by the Salem-Morrow Fire Department, 5270 East U. S. Route 22 & State Route 3, Morrow, Ohio 45152, to complete an order form. In approximately 7 days, your sign will be ready for pickup or installation. Generally, the signs can be made, while you wait, in less than 10 minutes. Isn't $12.00 worth the peace of mind of knowing that help can find you in your time of need?

KNOX-BOX® Rapid Entry System

The KNOX-BOX® Rapid Entry System was specifically developed for the fire department. With one master key, you can gain access to commercial and residential property. More than 7,000 departments nationwide use Knox key boxes, vaults, Haz-Mat cabinets, key switches, locking FDC caps, padlocks and the Knox-Scan heat sensor.

Many of these departments use Sentralok(tm), the master key security system, to control the Knox Master Key®. Property owners in your community store entrance keys, access cards and floor plans in high-security Knox-Boxes mounted near their building entrances.

Commercial Properties

Each KNOX-BOX® purchased by the property owner is keyed to a single master key controlled by your department. With the Knox System, there is no cost to the fire department, no waiting for a property owner to unlock the door in the middle of the night, and no forcing the door open to gain entry. The Knox Rapid Entry System reduces response time, property damage and the liability for lost keys. The Salem-Morrow Fire Department is currently using the Knox System on several properties in the area.

Residential KNOX-BOX® Program

The Salem / Morrow Fire Department has started a Residential Knox Box Program to help us help you. What is Knox Box? It's a heavy duty box that we hang on your door that has your home key in it. We have a Master key that we use to open the box in an emergency situation so we can make access to your home and let us help you.

The reason we started the program is to help us make entry to our citizens without causing damage to their property. We receive calls to residents homes and when we get there we are unable to make access do to the house is locked up tight. We end up breaking into the house to help with their emergency and then they have an extra expense fixing what we had to break. Residents stop by and offer us keys so we do not have to break in. That would be a lot of keys for us to have and maintain. This would cause more of a hindrance then help. This program is for residents that have chronic medical problems, elderly folks that live alone, persons with disabilities that would make it hard for them to let us in, and that live in our protection area. If you are not sure if you qualify, contact Chief LaFollette or Assistant Chief Harrison. This is a free service provided to our residents for as long as they need it.

This program was started by donations to the fire department. We have purchased 6 Knox Boxes and Key Secure Systems. The Key Secure Systems secures the key to the vehicle and tracks who uses it. This gives us an accountability system on the use of the key. Supplies are limited.

Free Blood Pressure Checks at the Salem-Morrow Fire Department

Strong Sales at Lebanon Antique Show

Large Crowd Was Happy to Buy

Warm sunny weather, cheap gas prices and cabin fever all came together the weekend of January 17 & 18, 2015 to produce one of the most successful Lebanon Antique Shows in recent history. Known for attracting dealers with high quality antique furniture, paintings, silver, jewelry, textiles, glass, china and pottery, the Lebanon Antique Show is the longest running show in the Midwest. Furniture dealers took the sales lead with antique and vintage jewelry, oil paintings, prints, and textiles also selling very well.

"This was our 67th antique show to benefit the Warren County Historical Society's museum properties" explained Head Curator Mary Klei, "The antiques business has been in a slump the last few years, but you would never have known that this weekend. Our attendance numbers were up 40% over last year and the crowd was definitely in a buying mood."

"All of our concerns about having to move to an older venue at the Warren County Fairgrounds were dispelled within the first hour of the show," said show manager Bruce Metzger of Queen City Shows. "The crowd was unbelievable and the dealers really stepped up their decorating prowess and made a rather stark interior space come to life. The attendees loved the wide aisles, spacious booths, and abundance of free parking."

Lebanon merchants also benefited from the 2000 plus people who attended the show. The city's antique shops and malls did better than normal January business and the restaurants all had better than average sales. The Golden Lamb Inn offered a coupon to show attendees and saw their business increase by 34% over the same weekend last year.

The Golden Lamb's Assistant General Manager Ben Toney commented, "The Golden Lamb Inn had an awesome weekend. We served over 600 meals on Saturday alone. Between the good weather and the Lebanon Antique Show we had a super weekend."

The Lebanon Antique Show is owned by the Warren County Historical Society and managed by Bruce Metzger of Queen City Shows. The proceeds from the event support the operations of the Historical Society's three historic museum properties in downtown Lebanon. #### “Looking Into The Ground Without Digging”

Saturday February 7th, 10:30AM-12:00PM

Dr. Jarrod Burks

Director of Archaeological Geophysics

Ohio Valley Archaeology - Columbus, Ohio

Archaeologists love to dig in the dirt, but there is nothing worse than not finding anything after a hard day of excavation. This is why they are always trying to figure out how to dig in just the right place to locate what they are after. Geophysical survey instruments can do just that—they can look into the ground, without digging, and locate buried archaeological features like cooking pits, foundations, wells, and graves. Geophysics is revolutionizing the way that archaeology is done in Ohio, finding things that we never knew were there. In this presentation Dr. Burks explores how various types of geophysical instruments work and some of the fascinating things that he has found with them on sites in Ohio. From old church foundations and buried wells to ancient earthworks and 3000 year-old earth ovens, geophysical surveys are helping archaeologists rediscover Ohio’s rich history.

Dr. Jarrod Burks is Director of Archaeological Geophysics at Ohio Valley Archaeology, Inc., a small cultural resource management firm based in Columbus, Ohio. He received his doctorate in anthropology from The Ohio State University in 2004, with a dissertation focused on studying Middle Woodland period (circa A.D. 250) Hopewell households at the Strait site in central Ohio. During his day job Jarrod conducts geophysical surveys on all manner of archaeology sites, primarily in Ohio and surrounding states, but he has also been to Guadalcanal searching for the remains of World War II MIAs. Rediscovering Ohio’s earthworks and Hopewell domestic sites using geophysics occupies most of Jarrod’s research efforts—though he is a sucker for requests to do geophysics on just about any archaeology site.

“Farmers till the End: Four Centuries of Fort Ancient Life at the Hahn Site near Cincinnati”

Saturday, March 7th, 10:30AM-12:00PM

Mr. Robert Genheimer

George Rieveschl Curator of Archaeology

Cincinnati Museum Center - Cincinnati, Ohio

Sometime in the 13th Century AD, Fort Ancient peoples constructed a large circular village on a high terrace in the lower reaches of the Little Miami River valley. Field investigations at the Hahn Site reveal that a ring or rings of houses surrounded an open communal plaza. These village dwellers grew maize and beans, hunted deer, elk, turkey, and other animals, gathered wild plants, and exploited a variety of river resources including fish and mussels. Archaeological excavations at the site have been aided by a robust remote sensing program that has delineated hundreds of probable pit features and burials. The combination of remote sensing and excavations reveal that through time, the site expanded across the 10-12 acre terrace, and was finally abandoned sometime during the 17th Century AD. Join us in examining seven years' worth of excavations at the site.

Shelton's Produce and Glory Farms at Deerfield Farmers Market & Lebanon Farm Market

Unfortunately, our new cow did not survive birthing the little heifer calf that I'm bottle feeding every three hours, round the clock. That means that there will be a further delay in resumption of some of your herd shares. I'm sorry, but this is all part of farm life. Our ten year old cow that was born and bred here is able to supply her calf and several herd shares, but two of our cows (these, too, were purchased a couple of years ago, and without a doubt you get someone's culls, but this is the best in this area we are able to do) did not breed. We have a heifer born and raised here that will calve in a few months, and we are hopeful she will be gentle enough to milk. She is pretty much of a pet, so again, we are hopeful. Some of you have a balance, and I can refund that to you, or you can wait till we wean Sammie's calf. The new calf will have to be on milk replacer. I think everyone understands that the entry herd share fee is a legal purchase into the herd, for better or for worse, and cannot be refunded, but some of you had paid ahead on your monthly fee). We have maple sap boiling on our wood stove, even as we text, the sap eventually being syrups in this week's CSA's. Also we dressed nine stewing chickens this week, and seven are still available at $2 per pound. Also, we have four young hogs going to the packer March 5, these are $4 per pound delivered, quarter, half, or whole. We LOVED the turnout at the Deerfield market last Saturday, and remember, Glory Farms is there every Saturday with products from Wild Holly Farm, Shelton Produce, as well as Glory Farms, as well as CSA's and herd shares, and orders. And EVERY Thursday at the Lebanon market we are there with Ohio Organic Cheese from 3 till 5. Rain, shine, snow, whatever. And I SHOULD say, we are there with our hardy, hard-core customers: YOU could be one, also. ## Little Miami Local School District News

Studer stars in every category

Before the season, Little Miami girls basketball coach Matt Tolliver pulled aside senior Lainee Studer. She was the team's only returning starter, and Tolliver told her she'd have to change her role.

The result?

"She has had a monster year for us in every category," Tolliver said.

As a point guard, Lainee had excelled in the past at getting her teammates involved, but Tolliver needed her to score more than last year, when she averaged 9.6 points per game.

Check out where Lainee ranks this season among the Southwest Ohio Conference leaders:

- Scoring, 2nd (15.3 avg.)
- Assists, 1st (5.0)
- Steals, 1st (6.2)
- Rebounds, 12th (5.3)
- 3-point shooting, 5th (37.8%)
- Free-throw percentage, 8th (68.9%)
- Blocks, 9th (0.7)

That's called stuffing the stats sheet. And those numbers don't reflect that Tolliver usually entrusts Lainee to guard the opponent's best player.

This is why a player who didn't receive even Honorable Mention honors on last year's all-conference teams is in the running for the SWOC Player of the Year award.

"I believe she has a great chance of getting the conference Player of the Year, which would be a great thing for her and our program," Tolliver said. "Her hard work is drawing interest from different colleges about continuing her basketball career at the next level."

Lainee has been chosen to be the next Today's Pulse Athlete of the Week. In Lainee's interview with the Pulse, she said her words to live by are, "Go out there and give it all you've got."

Lainee has four times scored at least 20 points, and twice had double-doubles – reaching double figures in two categories. In one game, she nearly totaled a triple-double, finishing with 22 points, 11 rebounds and eight assists.

"I never have to worry about her work ethic," Tolliver said.

Lainee has elevated the team into an almost-there contender; the team's 8-7 record includes four losses by two or fewer points. She and fellow seniors Kelsey Wind, Kelly Rambow, Abby Breeze and Alexis Kemp hope to close their high school careers on a high note.

Call to Arms for All Boosters

Little Miami School District is one of the fastest-growing areas in southwest Ohio. Our community is primarily rural, covering 98 square miles of mostly farmland. The economic upswing in recent years has brought new development into our area, and we now have our largest enrollment ever.

The education our school district provides continues to be rated excellent by the state of Ohio. We are proud of this accomplishment and feel this helps make our community attractive for potential homebuyers.

The LMABC currently supports over 850 athletes in grades 7-12. Our plan is simple: to bring our sporting teams up to the level of our education. It is with this spirit that we come to you seeking aid for our student-athletes.

One of the problems our athletes face is an inadequate training facility. Our current weight room is 900 square feet and can't house more than 15 kids at a time. The school board has given the Boosters the opportunity to transform the former Industrial Arts room (3,600 square feet) into a training facility, but the Boosters must pay 100% of the costs. With several initiatives going forward, this state-of-the-art training facility is by far our largest, with an estimated cost of $175,000. We are now beginning a fund drive to accomplish this goal.

There is opportunity in the corporate world for us to raise money. There are a few organizations who might match funds with us for the advancement of sports. The Cincinnati Bengals, for example, recently announced a matching grant for $150,000 to Harrison High School for the installation of a new turf field. The Bengals have done this for numerous schools, but seemingly always for the installation of a turf field, and always in a matching-grant scenario. We have feelers out with them as well as many other corporations in the Cincinnati area. We are trying to reach out to any businesses that can help us advance our athletic facilities.

These opportunities are exciting and yet unsure. The bottom line is that we have to have a plan in place to assure that this training center comes to fruition. That is where we must begin: with you! We need our alumni base, parents of student-athletes, parents of non-student athletes, parents of past student-athletes, local businesses, and companies you work for or with. In other words, we need to pull from every aspect of our lives.

The average citizen, who does not have a student-athlete or care much for sports, may ask how athletics would affect his/her life. A National Center for Education Statistics study shows that children who participate in extracurricular activities will have a higher GPA, have a higher percentage of post-secondary education, have a healthier lifestyle (by percentage of non-smokers and non-binge drinkers), earn a higher average income, and tend to stay in (or return to) the school district they grew up in. This makes our school district more desirable to live in, and thus raises our property values and provides us with a greater customer base for our local businesses. We truly are all in this together.

It would be easy to say that if everyone in the school district would donate $100 then we would probably exceed our goals. Honestly, the reach is not far from that. If our local businesses could partner with us in exchange for advertising, we would encourage everyone to give those businesses a better consideration.

If the loss of one outstanding young man this year taught us anything, it's that we are truly a community that cares. It is with that sense of closeness that I ask you kindly to support the initiative before us. Let us build something we all can be proud of.

The Green & Gold Committee is the point of contact for this fund drive. You may call 513.476.8610 or email us at lmgreenandgold@gmail.com. A member of our team will contact you.

Little Miami State Park Usage Soars!

By Paul Morgan

Total visits to the Little Miami State Park in 2014 were 760,000! This figure is from our first-ever comprehensive count of trail visits. The last estimate, 200,000, done by OKI in 1998, was based on very limited manual count data and a shorter trail length.

The 2014 estimate was calculated using electronic counters operating 24/7 for at least one month on each of the 22 "counting" sections of our 50-mile trail. The monthly counts were extrapolated to annual visits using data from the National Bike & Pedestrian Documentation project and with support from the Rails to Trails Conservancy.

FLMSP will use the new estimate to encourage grantors and other organizations to invest more money into the maintenance of this trail. We'll help them understand what we trail users already know-that our trail is cherished by the individual users and by the communities the trail passes through, and is a valuable asset to our entire region.

Our counting program will continue for the foreseeable future. If you'd like to help, contact us through our website.

Trailside Historical Marker Approved

By Janet Slater

Hamilton Township's first historical marker, explaining the contribution of the Butterworth family to the Little Miami Railroad, the Underground Railroad, and Maineville Academy, will be placed along our trail at Butterworth Station, 2.6 miles north of Loveland. It will mark the location of the stone depot, no longer standing but pictured above.

The boy in the old photo is Thomas Foster, a Butterworth descendent. Although Thomas is deceased, his wife Avery lives in Mason and supplied the photo. The depot is round because it doubled as a water tower for the railroad, using water from nearby springs, as well as a place to await the train.

The engraved sign with a picture and the state-required dedication ceremony require about $3,000 in funding, and the local group who worked for the historical marker needs your help. The caretaker of Butterworth Farm, located just east of the approved marker, is offering a special tour of the stone house where slaves were hidden in the 1830s and 40s to all who contribute $100 or more toward the project.

To contribute, please send a check made out to the Warren County Foundation, designated for Butterworth Station, to: Warren County Foundation, 118 Main St., Lebanon, OH 45036.

A public dedication ceremony for the marker is planned for June 6, 2015.

Cooperation Brings Quick Response

It's an hour before dark on Sunday, the last day of November, when an Ohio Dept. of Natural Resources wildlife officer encounters this tree fallen across the trail. He calls an ODNR parks officer, who in turn calls the Friends hotline. Aaron Rourke fields the call and contacts Dennis and Kathy Lewis, trail adopters for this northern section of the park, and they're on it right away. At noon the next day, the parks officer is back on the trail; he sends the photo below. Thanks to the cooperation between the state employees and FLMSF volunteers, this tree didn't lie around for long, even at the end of a holiday weekend. Said ODNR employee Heidi Evans, "You guys have it down to a science there. . . Thanks for all your group does!"

WCWS Blasts Buried Culvert

By Paul Morgan

Preserving and protecting our trail and its infrastructure demands many kinds of work - such as assuring that rainwater flows safely through the hundreds of culverts that pass under the trail. Many of these date back to the 1840s when the rail beds were built.

A buried culvert - filled with gravel & dirt with both openings buried in sediment was found by trail volunteers north of Loveland as they investigated water running over the trail. Many volunteer hours were spent digging by hand and backhoe to uncover the openings and restore the outlet ditch, but 30 feet of 24-inch pipe remained clogged. The solution?

Warren County Water & Sewer Department (WCWS) to the rescue! As a community service, the WCWS dispatched their skilled employees and huge equipment to jet-blast the debris out of the pipe. A job that would have been impossible using standard rental tools was quickly assessed and accomplished by WCWS employees John Kendrick and Adam Osterday, working in a stiff breeze and temperatures in the mid-20s. All it took was three hours and 3000 gallons of water sprayed under high pressure.

Many thanks to John and Adam, WCWS, and the many volunteers who fixed this drainage issue.

Municipal Tax Reform for Ohio

After many years of effort...

Towards the end of 2014, the Ohio House and Senate finally passed House Bill 5. Governor Kasich has not yet signed the bill as of this writing, although he is expected to do so.

This bill will significantly reduce and simplify the filing of city tax returns. There are over 600 municipalities in the state that collect city income taxes. Over the years, each municipality created its own set of rules and regulations making this the most arcane tax system in America. As CPAs, we can now focus on helping business owners in growing their business instead of dealing with the complexity of so many different sets of tax rules.

Note, however, that most of the provisions of the bill will not go into effect until January 1, 2016. Some other provisions of the bill will be implemented on January 1, 2017. We will run another Tax Tip of the Week later this year to help you get ready for your 2016 city tax returns.

We congratulate The Ohio Society of CPAs in leading the effort for this significant change in municipal tax reform.

EPA Announces New Energy Star Tool for Homeowners to Save Money, Energy This Winter

The U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is launching its Energy Star Home Advisor, an online tool designed to help Americans save money and energy by improving the energy efficiency of their homes through recommended, customized and prioritized home-improvement projects.

“As we enter the winter months, homeowners can use our new Energy Star Home Advisor to increase energy efficiency and save money while reducing greenhouse gas emissions that fuel climate change,” said EPA Administrator Gina McCarthy. “When homeowners take advantage of this important tool and increase the energy efficiency of their homes, many families will notice savings on energy bills and improvements in the comfort of their homes.”

The updated Energy Star Home Advisor guides the homeowner through a “do-it-yourself” energy assessment to create an Energy Star home profile. Based on the newly created profile, the Home Advisor provides customized, prioritized recommendations for improvements. From these recommendations, users can create their own to-do lists of projects such as adding insulation to the attic or replacing an HVAC air filter.

Over time, users can update their home profiles as they make improvements, see the positive environmental impacts of the changes they’ve made, get additional recommendations, and update their “to-do” lists for future projects. The home profiles can also be printed and used at the time of sale.

The announcement is part of EPA’s Energy Efficiency Action Week, during which EPA regional offices across the country will hold events to increase awareness about the energy and cost savings associated with energy efficiency upgrades, especially in the winter months. More on EPA’s Energy Star Home Advisor: www.energystar.gov/homeadvisor.

Homeowners can also use the following Energy Star tips to save energy and money at home this winter:

Get a Home Energy Audit - Home energy auditors are trained and certified in how to find energy problems using specialized equipment to pinpoint key areas for improvement and provide customized recommended solutions. In select states, Home Performance with Energy Star offers an energy assessment that focuses on a systematic approach to improving energy efficiency and comfort.

Seal and Insulate - The average home spends $2,000 on utility bills each year. Heating and cooling costs account for nearly half of that amount. Energy Star estimates that homeowners can save up to 10 percent on heating and cooling costs by sealing air leaks and adding insulation. Learn more through Energy Star’s “Rule Your Attic!” campaign, which encourages homeowners to measure their attic insulation levels as a first step toward making their homes more energy efficient and comfortable. More: www.energystar.gov/ruleyourattic.

Heat Efficiently - Energy Star recommends that homeowners check their HVAC system air filters every month. A dirty filter will slow air flow and make the system work harder — wasting energy and possibly shortening the life of the system. A good rule to follow is change the filter every three months. Energy Star also recommends that homeowners have HVAC systems serviced annually by a licensed contractor to ensure they’re running at optimum efficiency. If the heating system is over 15 years old, consider planning for its replacement with a high efficiency unit. Today’s Energy Star certified condensing furnaces operate at over 90 percent efficiency. Depending on where one lives, replacing old heating and cooling equipment with newly certified Energy Star equipment can cut annual energy bills by more than $115.

More: www.energystar.gov/heating.

Use a Programmable Thermostat - Avoid heating the house when not necessary, and save almost $200 a year. Programming the thermostat to turn the temperature down 8 degrees for 7 hours each night and an additional 7 hours each weekday could result in a seasonal heating savings of approximately 12 percent. More: www.energystar.gov/pts.

Make “Bright” Choices For Lighting -To get the energy efficiency and performance expected, look for the Energy Star label. LED bulbs that earn the label are independently certified to ensure they deliver on brightness and color and shine light where it’s needed. More: www.energystar.gov/led.

Decorate for the Holidays with Energy Star Light Strings - Energy Star certified light strings use 50 percent less electricity than incandescent light strings and are available in a variety of colors, shapes and lengths. They are more durable, shock-resistant and cooler to the touch. Some models deliver features such as dimming or color shifting. More: www.energystar.gov/dls.

Choose Energy Star Certified Electronics - A home equipped with TVs, set-top boxes, a Blu-Ray player, and a home theatre in a box that have all earned the Energy Star can save more than $280 over the life of the products. If streaming movies or videos over the Internet, remember that laptops and tablets use less energy compared to streaming over desktop computers or game consoles. More: www.energystar.gov/holiday.

Tips from EPA’s WaterSense Program include:

Many Americans know about the importance of saving energy and water. But few know about the drops-to-watts connection – that it takes energy to pump, treat, heat, and deliver the water we use every day for showering, bathing, cooking and cleaning. In fact, homes with electric water heaters spend one-fourth of their total electric bills just to heat water.

- Save 2,900 Gallons of Water at Home - One of the easiest ways to save energy and water is to install water-efficient, high-performing WaterSense labeled products such as showerheads. By replacing just one showerhead with a WaterSense labeled model, EPA estimates the average family can save 2,900 gallons of water, or the amount of electricity needed to power an entire home for 13 days.
- Install WaterSense Fixtures and Energy Star Appliances - If every home in the United States were equipped with WaterSense labeled fixtures and Energy Star certified appliances, water and wastewater utilities could save 12 billion kilowatt-hours of electricity per year and save $775 million in electricity costs per year.
- Shower Better and Save $5 Billion in Water and Energy - Simple changes made at home add up across the country. If every home in the United States replaced existing showerheads with WaterSense labeled models, the nation could save more than 260 billion gallons of water and more than $5 billion in water and energy costs annually.

Scientists Offer Myth Busting Insight

Many kids talk about what they know, or what they think they know about drugs. More often than not, parents and teachers are surprised by what their children learn. Much of what teens think they know comes from media bombardment glorifying drug use and dissemination of misinformation. That's why the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) created this interactive quiz as a good starting point to help shatter these myths. Interested in learning more or getting involved? On January 30 you can tune in to a day long live stream webcast (link will be live after 8 AM EST) where scientists answer students' most pressing questions about drugs. You can also follow the conversation on Twitter by using the hashtag #DrugFacts, by following us or @NIDANews. Visit NIDA's website on teen drug abuse and find interactive games, videos and more resources.
